

Pet Paw / Nose Printing Kit

What does my printing kit include?

- One sheet of special paper
- One wipe

Do I need anything else to capture the print/s?

No, but the following would be handy:

- Hard surface, such as a book
- Sticky tape / blue tack
- Baby wipes

How do I capture the print/s?

- Ensure the paw / nose is clean - if your pet has lots of hair around their paw pads, you may like to give the hair a little trim, this is not required however, as we can edit away the hair, if you don't like how this looks on the print.
- Take a book or hard surface and place two pieces of blue tack / sticky tape on it (which will secure the magic paper and stop it from moving around when trying to take print/s)
- On the side of the paper marked with an X, place it on the book in line with the blue tack / sticky tape. You want the side without the X facing up - this is where the print/s will go
- Remove the inkless wipe from the packet and wipe the paw / nose with the wipe thoroughly. Ensure that you have completely covered the paw pads / nose with the wipe, to ensure a full print is captured
- Be careful not to touch the paper with your fingertips as it will spoil the sheet (your fingerprints will develop in the same way as the paw / nose) One way around this is to quickly wipe your hand with a baby wipe and dry with a tissue before taking the prints
- Press the freshly wiped paw / nose onto the paper.
- Bring the paw to the paper. The easiest way to do this is to place the paper, supported by the book on the floor and bring the paw down on the paper. Try to hold the paw still whilst capturing the print and remove the paw up and away from the paper, to prevent smudging. The easiest way to capture a nose print is to bring the paper to the pet's nose and whilst holding their snout, press the paper firmly on their nose
- You will see the print develop on the paper
- Capture as many prints as you can fit on the paper, without them overlapping. We'll select the best one for your jewellery. If you have a preference as to which print we use, please place an X next to it.
- Wipe the paw / nose with a baby wipe and wash your hands with soap and warm water to remove any residue from the wipe
- Take a clear, straight on photograph of the whole page of prints, ensuring that there are no shadows visible
- Email the photograph to contact@felixandreuben.co.uk with your name as the subject
- Once received, we'll email you to discuss design details
